"Volunteers vs Violence, Let's turn theory into practice" 3 - 10 January 2021, Poznan, Poland

One World Association is happy to open application process for the project "Volunteering vs. Violence - Let's turn theory into practice" - creative camp aimed to built simulation game about non-violent communication and conflict resolution".

Content:

During 6-days creative camp we are going to create an educational simulation game that aims to help individual participants and organizations talk about violence, give examples of preventative grounds, and think about solutions to conflict or violence situations. Educational materials created during the project are to be a complement to the game, but they can also be the basis for starting discussion and working on the attitudes of individual participants and groups. Materials and the game are to be a way to relieve tensions and violence that affects us (including self-destructive violence directed to ourselves) using the proven method of "Non Violent Communication" and using new methods such as visual thinking / sketchnoting to deal with the situations. A very important point of the project is testing the game in individual partner countries and adapting it to their needs. The game will have the main axis, but the refinement will depend on the organizations participating in the project.

Participants from following countries can take part in the project: Albania, Bulgaria, Germany, Greece, Italy, Kosovo, Macedonia, Russia, Spain and Poland.
